Speaks Highly of Chamberlain Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of cart service at Kingston, Jamaica, West India Island, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's cough remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by all druggists.

Uninterested.
"Over there, ladies and gentlemen," said the guide to the party of "personally conducted," "are the famous mud baths of"—
"Don't interest me," said the gentleman from the United States indifferently. "I've run for office too many times at home."—Puck.

Breach of Promise.
"There are so many 'schools of correspondence' these days," remarked the girl who reads the advertisements in the back of the magazines. "Did you ever learn anything by correspondence?"

"I learned a lesson," sighed the young man, raking up some bitter dregs from the cup of memory.

"Indeed! What form of correspondence did you experiment with?"
"Love letters."

Postpones Assuan Dam Scheme.
The Egyptian government has decided on postponing—and this may mean abandoning—the scheme for raising the Assuan dam, and thereby increasing the supply of water for the irrigation of the country in the summer, and has taken this decision mainly because two mathematicians in London have developed a new theory regarding the stresses on masonry dams.

American Stays in England.
James Boyle, recently United States consul at Liverpool, has taken up his permanent residence in England. He is general manager of an American company which is doing an immense business at Liverpool in coaling ships by machinery.

Interplanetary Communication.

A Whistler Witticism.
James McNeal Whistler, the artist, was appreciated among his friends as much for his trenchant wit and sarcastic sayings as for his genius.

A young lady on one occasion, her first meeting with Whistler, was giving vent to her appreciation of the "artistic temperament," and was evidently of the opinion that she possessed that requisite herself.

"It is wonderful," she said in conclusion, "what a difference there is between people."

"Yes," replied Whistler, "there is a great deal of difference between matches, too, if you only look close enough, but they all make about the same blaze."—New York Times.

Sorrow Of It.
"More trouble," sighed McNulty, putting on his coat. "If it ain't one thing it's another."

"What's the matter now?" queried his good wife.

"More labor troubles," answered McNulty.

"Not another lockout, I hope," said the partner of his sorrows.

"No, it's worse than that," answered the alleged head of the house. "The boss has yielded and I've got to go to work again."—Chicago News.

Perils of the Missionary's Life.
Missionary work among the natives in southern Africa appears to be full of peril. In time the missionaries' successors will be entirely secure in their effects, but their self-sacrificing toil among the black tribes seems at present to be dangerous, especially among the people with whom the Germans are brought in contact.—New York Tribune.
